

Be Part of the Biggest Annual Survey of the Australian Travel Industry

Released 20 June 2016

Travel Daily, travelBulletin, Cruise Weekly and Business Events News have just announced the launch of the 2016 Australian Travel Industry's salary and employment survey.

To be conducted by independent research group Stollznow Research, participants have the opportunity to win one of five Fitbit Charge HRs or one of 50 Event Cinema movie tickets, simply by completing a five minute survey.

Topics covered include employment and salary conditions, job satisfaction, future prospects and experiences with recruitment services with all responses strictly confidential. The results will be published in future editions of the group's various publications, with in-depth analysis to be the subject of a major cover story in an upcoming edition of travelBulletin.

It's free for the entire industry to participate and the survey will be valid for responses until close of business on Friday 24th June 2016.
