Christchurch alive and open for business

This first Website Travel Training Summit has been very positive for Christchurch hostel owner Phil Leslie.

The purpose built new 310 bed "BASE Affiliated" ALL STARS INN is proving a popular stay close to the city centre and a base for the Canterbury region in the South Island of New Zealand.

Phil Leslie, previously of Base Christchurch destroyed in the 2010/2011 earthquakes, is stoked to be back in the game with a classily designed hostel. "Christchurch was suffering due to the lack of beds so we are glad to add stock to Christchurch bed numbers" say Phil more commonly known as Philby to the industry. "Despite the setbacks of the recent Kaikoura earthquake we continue to be the hub of the central South Island and gateway for International flights to the Beautiful South. The Southern Alps rise as a backdrop to Christchurch and with winter coming the Ski season will start bring more customers to our hostel."

All Stars Inn is represented at the Website Travel Summit as part of a five strong team of Kiwi operators training agents face to face today.

All Stars Inn rates start at NZ$34 for Bunk beds through to the plush Double/Twin ensuite rooms at NZ$115.
