

African Impact: Top volunteer abroad organisation in the world

29 January 2018

African Impact, the largest provider of volunteer projects in Africa, was named 2017's Top Rated Volunteer Abroad Organisation for the second year in a row by GoAbroad.com this January. Their 'Hands-on Lion Conservation Project' was also awarded the Top Rated Volunteer Project in the world.

As the leading resource for meaningful travel and with over 30,000 real reviews from past participants of over 18,000 programmes around the world, GoAbroad.com recognise and celebrate the Who's Who of international travel in their yearly honours.

The highest rated programme, African Impact's Hands-on Lion Conservation Project, focuses on the preservation and conservation of the iconic African lion in Zimbabwe, and is just one of their award-winning programmes listed on the website. In 2017, African Impact was presented with both the Outstanding Volunteer Project and Innovative New Programme award for their Build-It Project that makes use of sustainable, eco-friendly building methods.

"2017 was a record-breaking year for us." African Impact's Managing Director, Andrew Procter said. "We won numerous awards, but being named the Top Rated Volunteer Abroad Organisation in the world is something else entirely. It really brings home the commitment and passion of every single member of our staff as it is based solely on volunteer feedback. I am incredibly proud of who we are, what we stand for and what our volunteers are achieving in Africa."
